"SOME MEN SEE THINGS AS THEY ARE AND SAY "WHY". I DREAM
THINGS THAT NEVER WERE, AND SAY
"WHY NOT?""

MY SWAGGY MESSAGE TO DA BEST CHAPTER IN THE ORDER:

Dear Hazakah manly men,
I will tell you why I am the best possible candidate in the MANLIEST way possible. THROUGH A POEM.
Hazakah... A time ago, before we met a void was in my now tiger balm filled heart.

I tried so long
To fix the hole
Through chess team, Sports, feminines, countless unholy socks, assholes whom I called friends, and academics;
yet I cared not for it for those things at the end of the day
to me meant shit. They could kiss my ARSE.

The first day though, my lovely muse, Hazakah, knocked upon mine door I was uncertain. I feared that they, the "men", would see me as awkward, weak, chubby, and socially impaired as all others had. Yet they saw me as a brother... as a MANLY MAN.

Once I had met and grew close to these brothers I began to grow and was lifted gently from my social restraints.
Gently like a dove I was lifted allowing me to metamorphosize into a majestic and MANLY butterfly.
When I met you, my friends.

So here we stand together, brothers in arms. I am wishing to be with you and program events which further connect us as brothers and which allow our big chapter to feel small and connected. I am standing here wanting to lead, inspire, and be closer to each and every one of you. You are sitting there wishing you could be cool like me.
I stand firmly by you my men. But now I must ask do you all stand by me. To be thou S'gaan of 2014-2015.
PEACE!!!!
